14. Post event follow up – At the conclusion of the Webinar, all panellists will be invited into a sub conference to debrief on the event and determine next steps.
Project Approach and Timeline

- We recommend a minimum of 6-8 weeks from signing the agreement to the go live date. This can vary based on the client having content that is ready to be used, etc. In some cases the time can be shortened to as little as 4 weeks, etc.
- Water Today will provide templates to streamline the banner advertising, email blasts, invitation and registration process.
- Water Today will also provide minimum guidelines to ensure that all content and presentation material is informational and of the utmost quality to maintain the interest expected of readers of Water Today properties and subscriber base.

Suggested Timeline Guidelines

- Week 1 – Submit Agreement Order and any content to be used in delivery of Webinar such as case studies, customer success stories, event and audience objectives, etc. Also agree on dates for all key activities as listed below, as the actual live Webinar, unless otherwise agreed, will be scheduled approximately 8 weeks out.
- Week 2 – Sponsor to develop and submit content flyer for email blasts or review design and content by Water Today for review and approval.
- Week 3 – Sponsor to submit names of any additional Webinar participants including sponsors, moderator, customers and subject matter experts, including logos and other artwork.
- Week 4 – Water Today to provide sample of Banner Ads and other planned promotion including registration details, etc. Sponsor is encouraged to provide their own list of prospects to be included as part of the email blasts, or Sponsor will handle that directly.
- Week 5 – email blast #1
- Week 6 – Do final review of content and flow
- Week 7 – email blast #2 & rehearsal session with panellists
- Week 8 – Present live Webinar (Tue, Wed, or Thurs.), post debrief with sponsors and Water Today
